Introduction

This report provides a summary of demographic and related data for each Westminster Parliamentary constituency in Greater London. The profiles are designed to provide an overview of the population in each area by combining a range of data on the population, households, crime, education, business and deprivation. All data, relate to people who live in the area, i.e. they are residence-based.

For most indicators, each constituency is compared with equivalent statistics for Greater London, and a national comparator, which varies depending on the dataset.

The map on the previous page shows the Parliamentary constituencies. The maps on the profiles show both the location of the constituency within London, the wards that make up the constituency, and also borough boundaries. More detailed maps of the constituency boundaries are available on the Election Maps website provided by Ordnance Survey, the national mapping agency
<http://www.election-maps.co.uk/>

Data in these profiles are available in Excel spreadsheet format, and also in Instant Atlas interactive maps.

The next section expands further on the definitions and terminology used in this report, as well as a more general overview of demographic terminology.

The GLA Data Management and Analysis Group (DMAG) has produced these profiles, using the most up to date information available at the time of collection (February 2010).

Boundaries

The Boundary Commission for England is an independent non-political body set up by Parliament to review Parliamentary constituencies every 10 to 12 years. A periodic review of constituencies in London began in February 2000 and reported on its recommendations in October 2006. These changes were approved by Parliament on 27th June 2007 and come into operation at the next General Election.

The main reasons for the review were twofold:

- To ensure that every constituency has roughly the same number of electors (based on the 2000 electoral register) so that every vote carries the same weight in an election.
- To ensure that constituency boundaries align with recent ward boundaries (as of April 2005).

The main change for London is the decrease in the number of constituencies from 74 to 73, compared to an overall increase within England from 520 to 533. The average size of London constituencies, based on the 2000 electorate, was 68,137 persons compared to the English average of 69,410 persons. The largest constituency in London was West Ham (86,239 persons) and the smallest was Islington South and Finsbury (56,371 persons).

Following the changes all constituencies align with ward boundaries as of April 2005 (no significant ward boundary changes have occurred in London since 2002). A total of 62 constituencies lie completely within a single borough, with 11 constituencies crossing borough boundaries. Those are:

- Chelsea and Fulham: Hammersmith & Fulham and Kensington & Chelsea
- Chingford and Woodford Green: Redbridge and Waltham Forest
- Cities of London and Westminster: City of London and Westminster
- Dagenham and Rainham: Barking & Dagenham and Havering
- Dulwich and West Norwood: Lambeth and Southwark
- Erith and Thamesmead: Bexley and Greenwich
- Hampstead and Kilburn: Brent and Camden
- Leyton and Wanstead: Redbridge and Waltham Forest
- Lewisham West and Penge: Bromley and Lewisham
- Richmond Park: Kingston upon Thames and Richmond upon Thames
- Ruislip, Northwood and Pinner: Harrow and Hillingdon

Data Sources

GLA 2008 Round Demographic Population Projections

The Greater London Authority produces annual demographic projections at borough and ward level; the population data are broken down by single year of age and gender for each geographic area. Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from ward level data.

For more information on the methodology of how the projections were produced please read DMAG Briefing 2009-02.

Population density is the number of people per square kilometre. Other population publications can be viewed on the DMAG page of the GLA website.

<http://www.london.gov.uk/who-runs-london/mayor/publications/society/facts-and-figures>

National data comes from Office for National Statistics Mid-year population estimates for 2008.

Ethnic Group and Religion (2001)

The data comes from the 2001 Census, Key Statistics Tables 6 and 7, available on Neighbourhood Statistics. Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from ward level data. There are no more recent ethnic group or religion data available at a local level.

Births, deaths & life expectancy

Vital Statistics 2008 relate to events occurring in the resident population. All rates are calculated using GLA 2008 population estimates.

The births and deaths data come from ONS Vital Statistics Table 4. Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from ward level data. Small area data are only available directly from ONS

Standardised Mortality Ratio indicates how the mortality of a given area compares with the national level, after allowing for differences in age structure. The SMR represents total observed deaths as a percentage of expected deaths, which are calculated as the number that would occur if the population of the area experienced the age/sex mortality rates of England and Wales. Therefore the SMR for England and Wales equals 100, and any ratio higher than this represents a higher than average mortality rate.

The General Fertility Rate (GFR) is the number of live births per 1,000 women aged 15-44. This figure is available in the datasheet only, not as part of the profiles.

The Infant Mortality Rate, is the number of deaths of babies under 1 year old, per 1,000 live births.

The Life Expectancy 2003-07 data comes from the London Health Observatory (LHO) ward level dataset.

Life expectancy at birth for an area in a given time period is an estimate of the average number of years a new-born baby would survive if he or she experienced that particular area's age specific mortality rates for that time period throughout his or her life.

The figures for Parliamentary Constituencies are an average of the expectancies of the wards in each area. These averages are GLA calculations, not LHO figures, and therefore should be treated with some caution, and are included for indicative purposes.

Council Tax (2008)

Council Tax bands were set up in 1991 and are dependent on the value of the property at that time. The bands range from A for the lowest value properties, to H, for the highest value properties. Dwellings by council tax band data are available down to Output Area level.

Data are supplied by Department for Communities and Local Government (CLG) and was downloaded from Neighbourhood Statistics and relate to the number of dwellings on 31 March 2008.

Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from lower layer Super Output Area data.

Household income (2009)

The household income aspect using figures from the 2009 PayCheck dataset. The data are produced by CACI Solutions and provide modelled estimates of gross household income including income derived from investments and social security benefits.

CACI Solutions produce two separate estimates of gross income - unequivalised and equivalised. Equivalised income estimates take into account the size and composition of a household and reflect the idea that a larger household would require a larger income than a smaller household in order to achieve an equivalent standard of living. The equivalence scale used in PayCheck data is a form of the McClements Scale.

Small area data is only available directly from CACI and are rounded to the nearest thousand for these profiles.

For more information on this dataset, please read DMAG Update 02-2010

http://legacy.london.gov.uk/gla/publications/factsandfigures/DMAG\_Update\_02-2010\_PayCheck\_2009.pdf

Benefits rates (2008)

The benefits totals come from DWP and are available on Neighbourhood Statistics

Rates (percentages) are calculated using denominators sourced from the GLA population projections (2008 round), and are as follows:

- Disability Living Allowance Claimants – 16 to 59
- Incapacity Benefit/Severe Disablement Allowance Claimants – 16 to 64
- Income Support Claimants – 16 to 59
- Pension Credit Claimants – Over 60

2008 benefits data for lower layer Super Output Areas was released on 31 July 2009 and relate to benefits claimed in August 2008

Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from lower layer Super Output Area data.

Disability Living Allowance is available for people who become disabled before the age of 65. It replaced and extended Attendance Allowance and Mobility Allowance. People who could not qualify for Mobility Allowance or Attendance Allowance can get the lower rates of Disability Living Allowance. Rates are calculated using 16 to 59 as a denominator.

Incapacity Benefit – is paid to people who are assessed as being incapable of work and who meet the appropriate contribution conditions. Rates are calculated using population aged 16 to 64 as a denominator.

Income Support – this can be paid to a person who

- is in Great Britain
- is aged 16 to 59
- is not working 16 hours or more a week
- has less money coming in than the law says they need to live on.

From October 1996, Jobseeker's Allowance replaced IS for unemployed people. In general Income Support is now only available to people who are not required to be available for work such as pensioners, lone parents and sick and disabled people.

Pension Credit was introduced in October 2003. It is an entitlement for people aged 60 and over living in Great Britain. Pension Credit has replaced the Minimum Income Guarantee (MIG). However, the principle of a guaranteed minimum income continues to apply. There are two parts to Pension Credit: the guarantee credit and the savings credit.

The guarantee credit provides financial help for people aged 60 or over whose income is below a certain level set by the law. The level that applies depends on individual circumstances; this is the standard, minimum guarantee. The awarded amount will depend on other sources of income, such as other pensions and savings. Extra amounts will be added to the standard minimum guarantee for those who have:

- relevant housing costs
- severe disabilities
- caring responsibilities

The savings credit is an extra amount for people aged 65 or over who have made some provision for their retirement (such as savings or a second pension) which brings their income above a level set by Parliament, called the 'savings credit threshold'. The aim is to reward pensioners who have modest income or savings. Claimants can get a savings credit on top of a guarantee credit. Claimants may still get a savings credit even if their income is above the standard minimum guarantee level.

Unemployment (claimant count)

Job-Seekers Allowance claimant totals come from DWP and monthly data are available on NOMIS.

Jobseeker's Allowance (JSA) is a benefit for unemployed people or those working less than 16 hours a week and who are looking for full-time work. There are different types of JSA depending on whether claimants satisfy the National Insurance contributions conditions, pass the means test or are claiming as part of a couple. There are also strict criteria that must be met in respect of the claimant's labour market activity.

The population bases used as denominators are the economically active population (not all working age as used in ONS rates). They are calculated by using the national ONS projections of economic activity rates alongside 2001 census rates for local areas. These rates are then applied to the GLA ward population estimates for the relevant year. London and national comparator rates will not match those on NOMIS due to a different denominator being used.

The denominators are the labour force of persons, males, females, and persons aged 16-24 respectively. Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from ward level data.

Crime (2009)

Crime data is taken from the Metropolitan Police Service website. Data is provided at ward level for each type of crime.

These tables are published monthly. More detailed crime types are available from the Met Police website. Groups of crime types are used in these profiles.

Crimes recorded by the City of London Police are also included, but taken from the Home Office website report for 2008/09 (note slightly different reference year). Rates are per thousand population.

Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from ward level data.

<http://maps.met.police.uk/tables.htm>

Fires (2006)

The data was collected from the Fires Attended dataset on Neighbourhood Statistics. The most recent dataset at February 2010 was 2006, though updates for 2007 and 2008 are planned in 2010.

Data is supplied by Department for Communities and Local Government (CLG). Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from lower layer Super Output Area data.

Land use (2005)

This data is based on an enhanced base map. The statistics have been calculated for each ward.

They have been produced by Communities and Local Government on behalf of Office for National Statistics' Neighbourhood Statistics

Generalised Land Use Database (GLUD) 2005 (Enhanced Basemap) statistics are available for a number of other administrative areas such as output areas and local authorities.

Data published is in units of thousands of square metres. This has been converted to percentages for use in these profiles.

<http://www.communities.gov.uk/publications/planningandbuilding/generalisedlanduse>

Business by industry (2004)

Dataset is VAT Based Local Units by Broad Industry Group at Ward Level, 2004. These tabulations are produced from a snapshot of the IDBR on 19 March 2004, and are available on Neighbourhood Statistics.

This dataset is compiled from the Inter-Departmental Business Register (IDBR), which contains information on VAT traders and PAYE employers in a statistical register comprising 2.1 million enterprises, representing nearly 99% of UK economic activity.

A group of legal units under common ownership is called an enterprise group. An enterprise is the smallest combination of legal units (generally based on VAT or PAYE) which has a certain degree of autonomy within an enterprise group. An individual site (factory, shop etc.) in an enterprise is called a local unit.

Most recent data is 2004. Later datasets do not present data at such fine geographies. There are 14 industry groups in the dataset. Three of these groups have been merged for the purposes of these profiles. Motor Trades, Post and Telecommunications and Transport have been merged. Agriculture has not been presented due to low numbers in London.

The percentages represent the number of business units in each industry as a percentage of all units in the constituency - NOT as a percentage of the London total.

Figures are aggregates of ward data that was rounded to the nearest five.

Education (2008)

The data comes from Department for Children, Schools and Families, and downloaded from Neighbourhood Statistics. It relates only to children in maintained schools, not all schools.

All assessment results are referenced by location of pupil residence, available at Lower Layer Super Output Area.

Totals for Parliamentary Constituencies are aggregated from lower layer Super Output Area data and are simple unweighted averages, and therefore should be treated with some caution, and are included for indicative purposes.

Scores are used in these profiles as opposed to percentages as percentage data are not available for all SOA's due to low sample sizes in those areas, though scores are available for every SOA.

Level 3 point scores - Point score calculations are based on the cumulative achievement of students, usually over two years. The average point score per student provides a measure of the average number of A level equivalent studied and the grades achieved. The more qualifications undertaken by a student and the higher the grades achieved, the higher the average point score per student. However, the average point score per examination gives an indication of the average A level grade achieved by students at an institution. The higher the grade, the higher the points score per examination entry. Neither performance indicator should be considered in isolation.

For a list of level 3 qualifications and their point scores based on the QCA point score system see the DCSF website.

http://www.dcsf.gov.uk/performancetables/16to18\_08/d4.shtml

GCSE - A new scoring system (developed by QCA) has been adopted to accommodate the wider range of qualifications. The new scoring system uses a different scale and full details of points per GCSE can be found on the DCSF website.

<http://www.dcsf.gov.uk/performancetables/nscoringsys.shtml>

Key Stage 1 and 2 - To enable the calculation of average point scores for pupils at various key stages, points are allocated to each of a pupil's test/exam results using a scoring system. Full details of scoring tables can be found on the DCSF website.

http://www.dcsf.gov.uk/performancetables/primary\_07/2007Testandexaminationpointscores.doc

Indices of Deprivation 2007 summary measures

The parliamentary constituency level measures in this report are the results of calculations undertaken by the Greater London Authority, based on the Lower Layer Super Output Area (SOA) level Indices of Deprivation 2007 from the Department of Communities and Local Government.

The purpose is to replicate, as far as possible, the local authority level summary measures published by CLG and give alternative and additional measures, including a parliamentary constituency level version of the Income Deprivation Affecting Children Index (IDACI) and the Income Deprivation Affecting Older People Index (IDAOP). All of these measures are replicated here for parliamentary constituencies in London. However, this has not been done for the whole of England and the scores and ranks within London are given, with a rank of 1 denoting the most deprived out of a total of 73 parliamentary constituencies in London.

Six different summary measures have been created for local authorities, each focusing on different, but equally valid aspects of multiple deprivation in the district. Therefore no single measure is favoured over another and all should be taken into account. Taking an average gives an overall picture for the area taken as a whole, but can obscure the extent and depth of poverty within a diverse district. Other measures consider the size of the deprived population, not simply the proportion. The six measures are:

* Average of SOA Ranks summarises the area as a whole, taking into account the population weighted ranks of both the deprived and less deprived SOAs.

* Average of SOA Scores again describes the overall position of people in the area by taking the population weighted average of the scores for each SOA within the area.

* Local Concentration identifies 'hot spots' of deprivation by looking at the (population weighted) average rank of the most deprived SOAs containing ten per cent of the area's population.

* Extent depicts how widespread high levels of deprivation are in a area by considering the proportion of the area's population living in the most deprived SOAs in England.

* The Income Scale gives the number of people in the area who are income deprived.

* The Employment Scale gives the number of people in the area who are employment deprived.

The spreadsheet also shows the number of SOAs included among the 20 per cent most deprived areas in England, as a percentage of all SOAs in the area.

Further detail of the calculations can be found in DMAG Briefing 2008-21 and DMAG Briefing 2008-22.

Key Findings

A table of the highest and lowest ranked constituencies in London for each indicator in these profiles is on page 15.

Population

The area with the highest population is West Ham (136,111), which represents 1.8 per cent of the population. The lowest is Old Bexley and Sidcup (81,831), which is 40 per cent lower, and a difference of around 54,000. This area represents 1.1 per cent of the London total. There are six other constituencies that also represent this proportion of the population. These population figures are taken from the GLA 2008 round projections.

The highest percentage of children aged 0 to 14 is in East Ham (25 per cent), and the lowest is in Cities of London and Westminster (10 per cent).

Battersea has the highest proportion in the 15 to 34 age group (42 per cent), Ruislip, Northwood & Pinner has the lowest (23 per cent) – a difference of 19 percentage points.

Chipping Barnet is top for 35 to 54 year olds (32 per cent), though there are only seven percentage points between that and the lowest (25 per cent in Bethnal Green and Bow).

Orpington has the highest proportion of 55 to 74 year olds (22 per cent), while Poplar and Limehouse has the lowest (10 per cent).

The highest proportion of people aged 75 and over is in Hornchurch and Upminster (10 per cent), compared with the lowest in Lewisham, Deptford (three per cent).

The largest area is Orpington (79 km<sup>2</sup>), which also has the lowest population density in London at 1,120 people per square kilometre – though this is still significantly higher than the national average (323 per km<sup>2</sup>). The smallest by area is Islington North (seven km<sup>2</sup>). The most densely population area is Kensington (13,828 people per km<sup>2</sup>).

Ethnicity and Religion

The 2001 Census data shows that Brent North had the lowest proportion of people in the White British group, 27 per cent, compared with the highest of 93 per cent in Hornchurch and Upminster.

The proportion of population that was 'Other White' was highest in Kensington (25 per cent) and lowest in Hornchurch and Upminster (two per cent).

The highest proportion of the Indian ethnic group is in Ealing, Southall (35 per cent) and the lowest in Vauxhall (one per cent).

The proportion that is Black Caribbean was highest in Croydon North (15 per cent) and lowest in Richmond Park (0.4 per cent), while the Black African group had its highest proportion in Camberwell and Peckham (21 per cent) and lowest in Twickenham (0.4 per cent).

The highest proportion of Christian was in Hornchurch and Upminster (77 per cent) while the lowest was Ealing, Southall (35 per cent). Hornchurch and Upminster also had the lowest proportion of Muslims (one per cent), while Bethnal Green and Bow was highest (40 per cent).

Births, deaths and life expectancy

The highest proportion of births in 2008 occurred in East Ham (2.4 per cent of London total), while the highest proportion of deaths was in Hornchurch and Upminster (2.0 per cent).

The Standardised Mortality Ratio (SMR) measures how the mortality of a given area compares with the national level, after allowing for differences in age structure, where the national average equals 100. The highest SMR in London is in Lewisham, Deptford (129), and the lowest is in Cities of London and Westminster (62).

The highest infant mortality rate was in Bermondsey and Old Southwark (8.6 per cent), while there were no infant deaths (under one year old) in 2008 in Ruislip, Northwood and Pinner.

Male and female life expectancy at birth are both highest in Kensington (81.7 and 85.4 respectively), while the lowest for men is in Tottenham (74.0) and for women is West Ham (79.8).

Dwelling Stock

In 2008 the highest proportion of dwellings in Council Tax bands A or B was in Camberwell and Peckham (46 per cent), while the lowest was Richmond Park (2.5 per cent). The Cities of London and Westminster had the highest percentage of dwellings in bands F, G or H (53 per cent), while the lowest was in Walthamstow (0.2 per cent).

Household Income

In general areas with large average household sizes will have lower equivalised figure when compared with the unequivalised figure. The largest differences between the two measures in 2009 occur in Harrow East and Ealing, Southall, both are around £6,000 lower for the equivalised figure. This compares with Cities of London and Westminster which has a higher equivalised figure by £3,000.

In terms of unequivalised income, Richmond Park has the highest income (£49,000), the lowest proportion under £20,000 (13.5 per cent) and the highest proportion over £50,000 (39 per cent). At the other end of the scale, Tottenham has the lowest average income of £31,000, the highest proportion under £20,000 (34 per cent) and the lowest proportion over £50,000 (14.0 per cent).

Benefits

In 2008, Hackney South and Shoreditch had the highest claimant rates of Incapacity Benefit/Severe Disablement Benefit and Income Support. In January 2010 it had the highest rate of female Job Seekers Allowance (JSA) claimants. Pension Credit claimant rates were highest in Bethnal Green and Bow, while both the overall and male JSA rates in January 2010 were highest in Tottenham. The youth unemployment rate was highest in Camberwell and Peckham where over a third of young people were claiming JSA, more than twice the London average.

Crime

The number of offences reported to the Police per 1,000 people in London was 105 in 2009. The crime rate in Cities of London and Westminster was almost five times higher than the average (504). This area has a very high daytime population compared with the resident population, so this will have an effect on the rates in this area. For each of the eight main crime groups used in these profiles, this area had the highest crime rates. The lowest crime rate in London was in Richmond Park (51), and was also lowest for each of Violence Against the Person, Fraud and Forgery, Criminal Damage and Drugs. Old Bexley and Sidcup was lowest for Sexual Offences, and Theft and Handling. Hornchurch and Upminster was lowest for Robbery, while Sutton and Cheam was lowest for Burglary.

Fires

While Cities of London and Westminster had the highest number of fires (426) in 2006, the highest rate of fires per 1,000 dwellings was in Barking (7.1) and the lowest was Harrow West (2.9). The highest number of casualties was in Ealing Central and Acton (54) and the lowest number of casualties in Romford (6).

Land Use

The constituency with the highest percentage of land that is used for domestic buildings is Kensington (20 per cent), and the highest that is for domestic gardens is Sutton and Cheam (44 per cent). Cities of London and Westminster has the highest proportion of land used for both non-domestic buildings and paths. Islington and Finsbury has the highest percentage of roads, while Battersea the highest percentage of rail. Orpington has the highest proportion of greenspace.

Business

In 2004, Cities of London and Westminster contained around a sixth of all the local units (businesses) in London, and the highest proportions in Finance, and Property and Business Services industries. The highest proportion of retail businesses was in East Ham, while the highest percentage of wholesale was Brent Central. Old Bexley and Sidcup was top for construction, and Tottenham ranked first for production. The highest percentage of businesses in the Public Admin & Other Services industry could be found in Vauxhall.

Education

The point scores in this section are all based on the pupils place of residence for pupils in maintained schools only. The top average scores at Key Stage 1 (pupils aged 5 to 7), were in Twickenham (17.0) and lowest in Vauxhall (14.1). At Key Stage 2 (aged 7 to 11), the highest scores were in Richmond Park (29.8) and the lowest in Tottenham (26.2), which also had the lowest average scores at GCSE (346.6) and Level 3 NVQ, including 'A' Level, scores (592.1). The highest average GCSE score was in Ruislip, Northwood and Pinner (456.7), while the highest Level 3 scores were in Richmond Park (785.5).

Indices of Deprivation (2007)

The highest average deprivation score (most deprived) was in Hackney South and Shoreditch, while the lowest score was in Wimbledon. These areas also had the highest and lowest Extent scores, which is a measure of the proportion of the areas population living in the most deprived SOAs in England. The highest number of income deprived were in Tottenham (45,292), compared with the lowest in Beckenham (6,491). Beckenham also had the lowest number of employment deprived (2,678), while Holborn and St. Pancras had the highest (12,784). The Income Deprivation Affecting Children Index was highest in Poplar and Limehouse and the Local Concentration score was also highest there. This means this area had the highest average rank of the area's ten per cent most deprived population. Wimbledon, again, is the least deprived on this measure. The Income Deprivation Affecting Older People Index score was highest in Bethnal Green and Bow, and lowest in Beckenham.

Poplar and Limehouse had the highest percentage in London of its LSOAs in the most deprived five per cent nationally whereas Hackney South and Shoreditch ranked as the highest proportion in London in the most deprived ten and 20 per cent of LSOAs.
