GLA News

Giorgio Finella has left the Census Team at the GLA to work nearer to home. His post has not been advertised as yet. With the election of the new Mayor, Boris Johnson, there are likely to be some changes at the GLA and Giorgio's post is being held vacant until the future focus of our work becomes clearer.

Date of the 2011 Census and Dress Rehearsal

The Office for National Statistics (ONS) has announced that the next Census will be taken on Sunday 27th March 2011. The Dress Rehearsal will take place on 11th October 2009 and the areas to be included in the Dress Rehearsal are Ynys Môn (Anglesey), Lancaster and the London Borough of Newham.

2011 Census news and consultations

ONS have announced that they have secured funding for a fourth page of individual questions in the 2011 Census. This means that many of the questions that were in doubt can now be recommended for inclusion. Topics that were at risk included qualifications, industry, carers and hours worked. Income, although also dependent upon there being a fourth page, was deemed a lower priority than these topics and would not fit into the fourth page because of the number of higher priority questions. Along with the announcement on funding ONS have published their proposed content of the Census questionnaire. This is given in the tables below for individuals and households.

Some questions, although recommended for inclusion, are still the subject of further testing to determine whether an acceptable question can be found or whether the question actually produces reliable results or causes offence. These include intended length of stay in the UK, language and religion. Ethnic group categories are also not quite final. Appendix 1 contains an example of what the four pages of questions might look like. Please note that this is not the final version but an illustration of how the form might look.

Statistical disclosure control (SDC) policy

The current position is that ONS are down to a shortlist of three methods of disclosure control plus the rounding option for comparison. The methods are:

- Record swapping
- Cell perturbation
- Over-imputation

Research and assessment of these methods continues.

2011 Census Test - May 2007

The main objectives of the test were to:

Assess the effect on response of the inclusion of an income question; and the use of post out as well as post back; assess the feasibility of outsourcing the field staff recruitment, pay and training; developing a system that will allow tracking of individual forms; development of an address list and address checking procedures

Decisions made so far based on the results of the test:

- The majority of forms will be delivered by post in 2011
- The services of recruiting, training and paying the field staff

Further details will be published in forthcoming reports based on the 2007 Census Test. These are:

- Statistical Evaluation of the 2007 Census Test
- 2007 Census Test - Evaluation of the delivery method
- 2007 Census Test - Evaluation of the income question
- Evaluation of the 2007 Census Test - Summary Report

2001 Census data

Commissioned tables

A large number of commissioned tables have been produced and are all freely available on request from ONS. The GLA holds copies of all these tables. Any that contain ward or district level information are being converted into SASPAC system files and made available to all SASPAC users on the website SASPAC.org.uk. Alternatively they are available from any member of the Census Team.

Paycheck data

The Census Users' Group meeting of 23rd September 2005 agreed to renew the three year London borough consortium for PayCheck data from CACI. The meeting on 19th December 2005 discussed the CACI data further and agreed to extend this to the equivalised dataset. The data has been paid for by the GLA up to March 2008.

From April 2008 boroughs who want this data will be asked to pay a share of the cost as the Census budget will not be in a position to pay for the boroughs after the current year. Some initial details of the costs are now available and it is clear that there will be a considerable discount gained by going through the consortium. The conditions of use of this data are important - they will be distributed again with the latest data. Please check with either the GLA or with CACI before publishing any data. CACI have provided some indicative costs if boroughs were to buy it on their own. These are given below:

- 1) If an individual borough wants to buy PayCheck
- £2,700 a year for a three-year agreement or £2,950 for a single year agreement
- 2) A consortium of boroughs wants to buy PayCheck - It could either be a discount of 15% per borough if more than five boroughs join together for example, or we could provide every fifth license free.
- 3) The GLA + Functional Bodies - We would offer the partnership licenses at approx 50 - 75% of the full price, dependent on how many joined.

These prices are for PayCheck, similar prices apply to the equivalised data. The GLA currently licenses both PayCheck and Equivalised PayCheck, if buying both datasets there is a further discount of 25% on each dataset. With the GLA paying a share of the costs we anticipate the boroughs paying around £500 each for the standard and equivalised datasets, depending upon how many want to participate. This figure will be confirmed or adjusted later but is good value for money.

Census Users' Group Meetings

Meetings are held quarterly. The minutes of the meeting held on 19th March 2008 are in Appendix 2. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday 11th June 2008 at 2pm in Committee Room 3 at City Hall.

Dates have also been arranged for the two subsequent meetings. They are on:

Wednesday 1st October 2008 at 2pm in Committee Room 2 at City Hall
Tuesday 9th December 2008 at 2pm in Committee Room 2 at City Hall

SASPAC

SASPAC v8.5 was released in April 2008 - you should all have now received your copy. Along with the software, a two disc data DVD was also released. These contain all the 2001 datasets for the UK and includes copies of everything you would have previously received from us. The purpose of these discs is to provide you with a consolidated set of 2001 data from one source, rather than the fragmented datasets you would have received since the first data was released in September 2002. If you have not received this, or have misplaced your copy, please contact the helpdesk.

What's next?

SASPAC v9.0 is not far off the horizon! Following the recent release of GeoWise's InstantAtlas v5.0, there will be a new Web Publishing tool available through SASPAC. This is a significant improvement on the existing publisher and includes a number of new features:

- Scale dependent base mapping
- Additional contextual geographies
- Improved legend palette and data table
- Templates supporting Adobe Flash technology
- No need for .NET Framework
- Discounted upgrades to InstantAtlas Designer and Style Editor and additional templates

We are currently testing the first version of the publisher but expect to be able to release a beta version for wider testing in July. Please contact the helpdesk if you are interested in receiving a pre-release version. An example of how the new web pages will look can be seen below.

Briefings and analysis

A number of DMAG Briefings based on Census data have been published recently. They are listed below.

Published

DMAG Briefing 2008-14, Census Team Workplan 2008-9, gives details of our current plans for the coming year.

DMAG Briefing 2008-20, SASPAC Team Workplan 2008-9, gives details of our current plans for the coming year.

DMAG Briefing 2008-25, Census Information Note 2008-2, the regular newsletter for the Census Consortium.

DMAG Briefing 2008-15, 2001 Census Profiles: Black Caribbeans in London, another in the series of Census based profiles.

DMAG Briefing 2008-26, The 2001 Census Consortium and Information Scheme, gives details of the history of the Census Consortium, how it was set up and why we think it was value for money.

The following Briefings are in production:

Housing tenure change 1961 to 2001 by Eileen Howes - this Briefing will provide data on housing tenure from five Censuses and a series of maps showing how each tenure has changed over the last 40 years. The 1961 Census data is based on the London boroughs as they were created in 1964 and not on those current at the time of the 1961 Census. It also includes more detailed change between 1991 and 2001 by ethnic group of household head/HRP.

Quality of origin-destination data - this Briefing will use new commissioned tables to assess the quality of the special workplace statistics published by ONS from the 2001 Census, or indeed the damage done to the data by the rounding which was applied to all the tables once they had been produced and before they were published.

Training

Bill Armstrong is running a series of SASPAC and Census Training courses, the dates are usually driven by demand. The next series of courses will be held:

Monday 15th September to Wednesday 24th September inclusive.

Please contact Bill Armstrong if you would like any further information.

Census extranet

The Census extranet is updated by the Census Team and is about to undergo some changes. You need a User ID and password to access it. These can be obtained by going to the site at: <https://extranet.london.gov.uk/>

Some information and data is also available from the SASPAC website at:
<http://www.saspac.org>

Minutes of the Census Users' Group meetings appear on the Extranet, as do these Census Information Notes and other relevant papers and publications.

Census contacts

Appendix 3 gives the name and e-mail address of the main Census Contact in each borough and other relevant organisation. Please check that we have the right person listed and that the e-mail address is correct. If you know of anyone else in your organisation who would like to receive Census Information Notes please let us have their e-mail address.

	June	Publication of Equality Impact Assessment on the development of the questions for ethnicity, national identity, language and religion
	June	Publication on evaluation of Census Test questionnaire
	October	Questionnaires for 2009 Rehearsal finalised
	December	Topics for 2011 Census announced in White Paper
	Ongoing	Cognitive question testing
2009	Spring	Census Rehearsal

Appendix 2

Minutes of Census Users Group (CUG) Meeting, 19th March 2008

1. Minutes of the last meeting and matters arising

The minutes of the meeting held on 18th December 2007 were accepted. Any matters arising to be covered under specific topics.

2. SASPAC v8.50

A pre-release CD of version 8.50 was available for collection. The official release of version 8.50 would follow in a few weeks, the software was finalised but the disks were currently in production. The distribution of version 8.50 would include a full set of all data released since 2001, probably on two DVDs.

AL demonstrated the new features of this release.

i. Google Maps

Google Maps now interfaces with SASPAC so searching and selecting areas can be performed in Google Maps and these selections copied back into the SASPAC command window. The area selected for the demonstration was a disc or hollow disc (AKA a donut).

ii. Search facility

The new 'explore' button allows the user to search for system files that contain previously selected variables. The chosen location can be any combination of local or networked drives or an external CD or DVD. The chosen file/directory path found by exploring the data can be cut and then pasted into another application or into another SASPAC command file.

iii. Help files

A major rewrite and update of the help files has been carried out by Hywel. The documentation now refers to the latest software and 2001 data. It was also improved by including more user friendly menus and searchable lists that users will be familiar with from other applications. In addition, context-sensitive help can now be accessed from help buttons within SASPAC dialogue boxes.

Work was continuing on updating the help files. It was hoped that further updates would follow (possibly delivered via the internet).

iv. Google Earth Export

Mapshore thematic maps can now be exported as kml files and viewed and integrated with content from Google Earth's virtual globe.

AL explained that the software supplied should install automatically via a wizard, however an installation guide for IT people was also included (for example for a network installation.) It had also been tested to install correctly on Vista platforms.

Feedback on the new features was welcomed. In particular, AL asked users if they would find additional GIS functionality useful.

AL said that SASPAC version 9 would follow soon. This would incorporate Geowise's Instant

Atlas web publisher. He was also negotiating with Geowise to get an upgrade option at a discount.

SASPAC support scheme

EH said that the funding for the group's membership of the support scheme ran up to the end of March 2008, not 2009 as was reported previously. The 2001 Census Information Scheme had sufficient money remaining to fund a further three year membership of the SASPAC support scheme for the London consortium. It was proposed that part of the remaining balance be used to fund the support scheme membership for the three years April 2008 to March 2011. This was agreed. The membership of the support scheme would continue up to the point where a 2011 Information Scheme could be in place.

3. 2011 Census developments

i 2011 Information Scheme

A note setting out the benefits of the 2001 Information Scheme will be produced, probably in April, so that boroughs could use this to promote the idea of a similar arrangement for 2011 within their borough. The Mayor's Office will also be asked to approve the idea of a 2011 scheme, and if a new mayor is elected in May they would need to be briefed on the Scheme. The level of support for a scheme will become clearer in next six months. Assuming it gets approval, the formal request to boroughs to enter the scheme would probably come in 2010.

There might be some renegotiation of the financial contributions of the GLA and Functional Bodies, although EH anticipated the overall GLA group contribution would remain at a third of the total.

ii Consultations on 2011

ONS's recommendations on questions covering ethnic group, national identity, religion and language are expected imminently. These will be used in the Census rehearsal in October 2009.

Consultation on 2011 outputs was being conducted via an online questionnaire. One disadvantage of this was that respondents could not see the questionnaire before filling it in, however a pdf of the form was available on request from ONS and RC had a copy of this. The questionnaire asked high-level questions about the kinds of output that users want from 2011 particularly the trade offs between user specified and pre-determined tables; methods of data delivery - website, electronic media or paper; and statistical disclosure control. AL said that he would respond to the survey on behalf of SASPAC. The Census Team will respond on behalf of the GLA, but users could respond individually.

iii 2011 Census Content Workshop

This was held 29 February with a group of invited users including EH and John Hollis (JH). Most participants were from central and local government, there were a few commercial representatives and only one academic. The purpose of the workshop was to update users on ONS' latest thinking on questions and to look at priorities. The decision on the fourth page of the Census was not announced but was said to be very close.

EH flagged up some questions of interest: The marital status question had been expanded to include civil partnerships. This however took a lot more space than the previous question.

On the question asking the number of rooms in the household, the GLA had conflicting needs: JH preferred a count of bedrooms for estimates of housing capacity; EH preferred a count of rooms for comparability with previous censuses.

There were a variety of migration questions: date of arrival in the UK; intended length of stay; alternate address. This latter question was intended to cover second homes as well as migrants, but it was unclear from the wording of the question if it would differentiate between holiday and second residences. It was agreed to ask JH if he felt the question was robust.

There were also questions on passport entitlements and on national identity. Neither was felt to be particularly useful in their present form. The national identity question specified UK territories plus a write-in box and allowed multiple responses. EH had told ONS at the workshop that there was no policy interest in UK national identity in England and there should be an 'advocate for England' to feed back such messages. There was interest in nationality particularly of A8 countries' migrants but the proposed questions would not capture this information.

EH said that ONS would meet with Scottish, Welsh and Northern Irish officials shortly to agree their recommended topics for the Census (but not the detailed wording of questions). These would be carried forward to the Rehearsal and the White Paper. It was not too late to influence topics after the White Paper was published, but this would have to be at a political rather than a technical level.

iv Census and Census Rehearsal

[After the meeting] ONS announced on 26 March that the Census Rehearsal will be held on 11 October 2009 in Lancaster, Newham and Ynys Môn. The date of the Census was announced at the same time as 27 March 2011.

v Academic Advisory Group on Ethnicity, National Identity, Religion and Language

Group met on 25 February, EH attended. There was a strong opposition to the suggested multiple ticking on the national identity question. The religion question is likely to be similar to that asked in 2001.

4. DMAG briefings and analysis

i Economic activity

Hard copies of this briefing were available for people to take away.

ii Greater London Assembly Constituency Profiles

Liz Williams from the General Statistics Team introduced the profiles which contained more information than the previous edition, including some data on non-constituency areas. EH said that during the election purdah period, requests for information on constituencies would be chiefly met by this publication.

iii Black Caribbean profile

Now at proof stage. EH said that DMAG would have to take advice over whether the briefing could be published before the mayoral election.

iv Census Information Notes

The CIN produced after the December 2007 Census Users Group was now available as CIN 2008-01. The next would be produced in April.

v Future briefings

A note on the 2001 Information Scheme would probably be the next briefing to be produced, so work on the housing tenure briefing had slowed. Further ahead, a briefing on industry in London was planned.

5. SASPAC Training

The next SASPAC training will be held in the middle of May. Two courses will be offered: a beginners course, and a shorter session covering the new features in SASPAC 8.50. BA said that other courses could be offered if there was sufficient demand.

6. Any other business

Available at the meeting was a flier on the 2008 BURISA Annual Conference entitled "All Change - how can we get better population statistics to plan local services?" which will be held on 16 May.

Giorgio Finella is leaving the GLA at the end of April so this will be his last meeting after five years in DMAG. EH thanked him on behalf of the group. It was also the last meeting for Alan Brooks who is retiring.

7. Dates of meetings in 2008

Meetings for the rest of 2008 will be June 11, October 1 and December 9.
