Below is a map where the second stage (expansion, in yellow) of the Ultra Low Emission Zone will cover. The first stage Ultra Low Emission Zone is located in central London (orange). The expanded Ultra Low Emission Zone is proposed to come into effect from October 2021 with the North and South Circular Roads acting as its boundaries. Vehicles using the North and South Circular Roads will not be charged.

Typically, how often, if at all, do you drive a car in the expanded Ultra Low Emission Zone (yellow area)?
