This final version updates the version published in January 2023. The change is as follows:

Paragraph A3. added to explain that land use figures presented in this Appendix include for relevant boroughs any LLDC and OPDC land use areas within them.

Introduction

A1. This Appendix provides details on the quantity of industrial land use for different geographies for the years 2001, 2006, 2010, 2015 and 2020. This allows for the local comparison of industrial land uses over time. Please consider when analysing these data sets locally:

- For the land use categories utilities, land for rail, waste management and recycling, airport related land and freight, docks, as well as industrial land with vacant buildings, changes to definitions/ methodology from the 2015 study have occurred. Only for utilities and land for rail has the 2015 baseline been changed retrospectively. This has to be taken into account when considering the land use area changes to 2020;
- Open storage includes corrections to uses incorrectly coded as other industrial land uses in 2015. This has to be taken into account when considering the land use area changes to 2020;
- For the new land use categorisations mixed-use (including industrial), industrial-related research and development, data centres, dark kitchens, film and TV studios, as well as vacant land in non-industrial capacity a land use baseline position was not recorded in the previous 2015 and 2010 studies.

A2. The updated data have been subject to a verification exercise with the London boroughs. During summer 2021 they were asked to check the updated land use baseline and adopted policy boundaries to ensure that the unique local knowledge of sites and planning policy was captured. However, as the GLA has not independently checked the data, it cannot take responsibility for its accuracy. It represents a starting point for the more detailed exploration of the industrial land use locally.

A3. Please note that land use figures presented include for relevant boroughs any LLDC and OPDC land use areas within them. This recognises that LLDC and OPDC did not exist early in the time series and therefore facilitates the comparison of change of land use over time.

A4. Also note that time series data on quantity of industrial land use for some geographies is limited. Those, and the reasons for this, are:

- LLDC and OPDC, whereby data is shown only for 2015 and 2020 reflecting their creation in 2012 and 2015 respectively;
- Central Activities Zone, with data shown only from 2010 onwards as its boundary was not defined previous to this.

A5. Kensington and Chelsea contains no land designated as LSIS, despite the 14.6 ha identified. 4.7 ha of this is in industrial use, and should have therefore been categorised as non-designated industrial land for the purpose of this study.
